

2010: A SPACE IDIOCY

Boldly Go Where No Man Has Gone Before!

Or woman, or alien, or trans-gender

Saturday, Oct. 30 7:00PM

The costume contest this year is wide open from the field of sci-fi movies. From heroic spaceman, or woman, or trans-gender, to hideous mutant, your imagination is your only limitation. And we all know how limited some of your imaginations are.

This year's food theme is Space Food. How about some meteor meatballs, comet canollis, monolith sheetcake, cosmic cream puffs, Plutonian prune pie, Martian marshmallows or Andorean andouille.

Of course, fantastic prizes will be awarded for the favorites in both costume and food categories. And as always, those not willing to come in costume will be the judges for the costume contest.
